

Retail Sales Analysis – Summary Report

Objective

To analyze retail sales data and identify key trends, top-performing products, regional performance, and actionable business insights.

Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)

- Total Revenue: Total Revenue: 2297200.8603
- Average Order Value: 229.85800083049827
- Top Performing Region: West

Sales Trend Analysis

Sales show an overall upward trend with noticeable fluctuations, indicating seasonal demand patterns and periods of peak performance.

Top Products Analysis

Product Name

A small number of products contribute significantly to total revenue, highlighting the importance of focusing on high-performing items.

Regional Performance

Sales vary across regions, with certain regions contributing more to overall revenue, indicating differences in customer demand and market strength.

Key Insights

- Sales exhibit growth with seasonal fluctuations
- Top products drive a major share of revenue
- Regional differences significantly impact performance

Business Recommendations

- Focus on high-performing products and categories
- Plan inventory and promotions around peak sales periods
- Strengthen strategies in lower-performing regions